

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

HEADQUARTERS GENERAL ALEX. HAYS POST, No. 3, }

DEPARTMENT OF PENNSYLVANIA, G. A. R.

PITTSBURGH, April 9, 1889. }

Geo. L. McCoy, Esq., Secretary, Homœopathic Hospital:

DEAR SIR—In compliance with instructions, I have the honor to herewith transmit the following resolution adopted by this Post, at the regular meeting on Monday evening, April 8, 1889, to wit :

WHEREAS, The Homœopathic Hospital of Pittsburgh has extended many courtesies to, and admitted to its wards many old soldiers and given them special care; therefore,

Resolved, That we extend to the managers of the Hospital our heartfelt thanks for their kind manifestations in so cheerfully caring for our comrades in distress.

From the record.

Very respectfully,

H. H. LAMBERT, Adjutant.

Rev. George T. Purvis, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh, made the following address :

My feeling has been one of profound gratitude as I have listened to the reports of the benevolent work accomplished through this hospital during the past year. There is so much misery in the world ; so many lives are darkened by remediless sorrow ; so many frames racked with pain, that one is often tempted to take a pessimistic view of man's present lot. When we look in thought over the wretchedness which is crowded into a great city, we are almost ready to despair. We wonder that many have courage even to live. We can scarcely understand their being happy. But as we to-day think of the skillful service which has been freely rendered here to the suffering, of the kind words which have been spoken, and the tender attentions which have been bestowed on the unfortunate, we must be ready to take courage and thank God that, despite the dark side of the picture of life, there is this bright side, and that so many lives, otherwise doomed to sorrow, have been brightened and blessed.

It is noteworthy that, while all religions have had their temples, Christianity alone created hospitals. The duty of worshipping God has everywhere been felt ; but the service of man, and especially of weak and suffering man, has been often forgotten. To Christianity is the idea of a hospital certainly due, and it is interesting to trace, in the early ages of our faith, the progress of this idea until the time when it crystallized into a settled form.

There was first begotten by Christianity a sufficient motive for such work in the spirit of love. Of course there had been charity and kindness in the world before Christ came, even as there are charity and kindness in Pagan nations now. The human heart had not died. All virtues had not perished. Noble deeds of philanthropy and noble ideas of brotherhood had existed quite outside of Hebrew or Christian influences. But these were scattered sparks of light amid a dense gloom of selfishness and cruelty. The Christians had a love of man as such, a tender sympathy with the weak and the suffering, a broad desire to help elevate the unfortunate which stands out in early history as a distinctly new phenomenon. In its intensity and its universality it was a new force in human life.

But for a long time this could express itself only by individual acts of kindness, or by the charity of the church. It was not until the Roman Empire had passed under Christian control that the charity of the church could find opportunity and power to establish benevolent institutions. This was the second phase of the growth of the new force. In the fourth century, therefore, hospitals appeared in the East and West. No sooner had the fettering hands of Paganism been taken off of the new religion than the latter began to embody its philanthropy in outward structures. These were at once refuges for the stranger, homes for the homeless, hospitals for the sick. Doubtless they were very crude in comparison with our modern institutions. Science had not yet been born to be the servant of religion. But the motive power of love took what forms it could and in the evening hour of the ancient civilization already exhibited the forces which in time were to create the new.

And beside this, we should not fail to mention, that from the beginning woman took the lead in the founding of hospital work, even as but for her zeal our modern hospitals and benevolent homes could scarcely have existed, and certainly would not prosper as they do. It is recorded that the first hospital in Rome was established by a lady, Tabiola, whose name attests her illustrious lineage, and who sought solace for her own sorrows in ministering to those of others. She, however, was but one of many who devoted money and time and toil to the holy work. Christianity has done so much for women that she may well consecrate her mighty powers to its spirit. She has, indeed, done so, and it is well that in our modern age she should have a sphere where all that through Christianity she has become, may be broken as an alabaster vase over her liberator in the person of His poor.

Thus Christianity founded the hospital beside the church. The love of God took its appropriate expression in the service of man. Faith in redemption and hope of immortality wrought out love as their sister grace. Slowly the new spiritual powers worked their way, suppressed, but never dead; narrowed, but never destroyed, until the time came when they could take the large forms and attempt the grander work in which it is now our privilege to have a share.

But how great have been the improvements in this service for the sick which modern religion and science have joined hands in producing!

Notice the great improvement in buildings. Go, for example, through this large edifice and examine its complete arrangements. From cellar to roof it is a model of skill and comfort, and under its present efficient management is marvelously adapted to its beneficent purpose.

Notice, too, the great improvements which all our hospitals show in medical appliances. The very best effects of skill and the latest discoveries of science are placed, without charge, at the disposal of the poorest in the land. Medical science, like the Gospel, knows neither rich nor poor. This is the greatest glory of our hospitals, that the best which money can buy may be had without money by those who cannot pay. And it gives me particular pleasure in this presence to pay my tribute, as a minister, to the vast amount of good which is done every day, and in the quietest and most unostentatious way, by physicians. I always have been glad that there was a physician among the band of disciples who, in apostolic days, went forth to evangelize the world. Religion and medicine are natural co-laborers for the benefit of humanity, and each ought ever to gladly recognize the worth of the other's work. Medical science has given efficiency to love's desire. She teaches philanthropy how to work, and lays her highest attainments at the feet of the humblest of men.

Then notice, also, the great improvements made in organization of hospital work. What an individual could not do a society can. Such a hospital as this, with its medical staff, its corps of trained nurses, its careful management and its ladies' auxiliary, is a model of organization. This is a work in which the community, in all its various forms of activity, should unite. In this work the State should unite, for the hospital does a service for citizens which the State could not otherwise do. In this work the church should unite; for hospitals are the offspring of the church's own thought and life. In this individuals should labor; for they need, by personal work, to keep themselves in sympathy with the needy. However much may be done by the State, or by any society, in its corporate capacity, it will be an evil day when the opportunity is not afforded for us, men and women alike, to bless ourselves as well as others by doing what we can, individually, to "bind up the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised."

So I close, as I began, with expressing my gratitude for the noble work which has been done in this hospital, and in thanking God for every such beam of light which streams athwart the dark background of this suffering, sorrowing world.

 Medical ~~AND~~ Surgical Hospital ~~AND~~ Dispensary, OF PITTSBURGH, PA.

YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 1889.

To the President, Trustees and Corporators :

The Hospital year just closed has been a notable one in many respects. The reports submitted by the Superintendent—Col. Slack—the Medical Board and Dispensary, the Dean and the Superintendent of the Training School, the Secretary and the Treasurer of the Ladies' Association, all attest advance in the various departments of Hospital work.

THE RECORD OF THE YEAR.

The record of the year indicates an increase in the number of patients treated, although the Hospital has about reached the limit of its capacity under the present arrangements, as will be noted hereafter.

The number of patients treated during the year was 1,269, of whom 317 paid in whole or in part, while 952 paid nothing. Counting by days there were 5,516 days of pay patients, and 25,773 days of charity patients, the average cost being about one dollar per day. From this it will be seen that the cost for maintenance of charity patients during the year was $25,773.00. The greatest number of patients in the Hospital at one time was 111, while the daily average was 85½.

The average time each patient remained in the Hospital was $24\frac{7}{10}$ days, which was a decrease of two days per patient over the previous year, or $7\frac{4}{10}\%$ per cent.

DISPENSARY DEPARTMENT.

The Dispensary Department continues its great work among the poor of the two cities and vicinity, with unabated vigor. The magnitude of the work may be learned from the following :

Number of Prescriptions issued during the year.....	20,170
Minor Surgical Operations.....	1,247
Surgical Dressings.....	225
Visits to homes of patients.....	58
Total service.....	21,700

This work has been gratuitous, and was rendered by the following staff : Drs. R. K. Fleming, R. W. McClelland, W. D. King, J. B. Sullivan, H. G. Briggs, J. R. Horner, J. H. Thompson, W. P. McIlroy, Margaret L. Crumpton and Thomas Reading.

GRAND TOTALS OF HOSPITAL SERVICE.

. Adding to the previous work of the institution that of the past year, we have a grand total of 9,349 patients treated in the Hospital wards, 4,566 of whom have been cared for since the erection of our new Hospital building, some five years ago.

From the Dispensary Department 246,655 prescriptions have been issued, and 11,733 visits made by the Dispensary Staff to the homes of the sick.

COST OF MAINTENANCE.

The cost of maintenance during the year includes interest account, ordinary and extraordinary repairs, cost of operating the Dispensary and all other items of Hospital expense. Including thus the entire cost, the rate per diem for each patient was $\$1.04\frac{7}{10}$. But this is manifestly an inaccurate method of computing this expense, for by including all ordinary expenses of the institution, together with that of the Dispensary Department, the rate per diem for each patient was but $99\frac{3}{10}\%$ cents. For the character of service received by the patients under our care, this is probably as low a rate as rigid economy and good administration will permit.

THE RECEIPTS.

The receipts of the Hospital from all sources during the year amounted to $52,773.75. This is composed of the following :

From pay patients.....	$ 7,741 66
Training School for Nurses.....	1,686 26
Ladies' Association (donations).....	3,200 00
State of Pennsylvania.....	7,250 00
Borrowed money and renewals.....	27,000 00
Roll of Benefactors (donations).....	3,400 00
Other cash donations.....	1,168 64
Hospital Sunday.....	622 57
Interest on Endowment Fund.....	190 48
Miscellaneous sources.....	514 14
	$52,773 75

The Treasurer's report will give the individual items of this account.

THE DEBT.

The current debt of the Hospital at the present time amounts to $26,104.88, upon $8,000 of which we pay interest. In addition to this the Hospital has a mortgage indebtedness of $19,000.00, which makes a total of $45,104.88. With the view of partially liquidating this indebtedness, the Legislature has been requested to make an appropriation. The bill has passed the House, and hopes are entertained that its further passage will be without opposition. The committee having the matter in charge will be called upon for a report.

FUTURE PROSPECTS.

Several plans are now being considered by the Committee and the Trustees for providing reliable means for the future support of the Hospital, prominent among which is the creation of an Endowment Fund, concerning which our President will hereafter speak. It will be noticed that a beginning has been made in this direction, and some $12,000 are now on deposit, the interest alone being applicable to the payment of the debts of the Hospital.

The next plan is the "Roll of Benefactors," which is bound to rise to great importance as a source of revenue. The past year shows an income from this source of $3,400, and the prospects are bright for the future. A report may be expected from the Ways and Means Committee on this subject.

From the Hospital Saturday and Sunday Association we anticipate good returns, and as our Secretary is actively engaged in this enterprise, a brief report may be expected from him.

FREE BEDS.

We are pleased to add the name of Mr. Daniel Bushnell to our Life Trustees; his subscriptions now amounting to $1,000, entitle him to the use of a free bed during his life.

HOUSE SERVICE.

Our house service remains satisfactory in every respect. Our Superintendent—Col. Slack—continues to conduct the complicated affairs of the Hospital with signal ability and acceptance.

Miss Barrett having resigned as Superintendent of the Training School for Nurses, your Committee had the good fortune to secure the services of Miss M. P. Wright, a graduate of the Bellevue Training School.

The term of Dr. Thomas Reading, who has faithfully and with skill served the institution ad interim during the past year, having expired, Dr. W. W. Blair has been appointed to fill his place.

TRAINING SCHOOL.

Your Committee reports the Training School in a state of increasing efficiency, and it to-day will graduate its third class of trained nurses. We have pleasure in commending them to this community as skillful and trustworthy nurses. The reports of the Dean and the Superintendent are transmitted herewith, as part of this report, and from these additional data can be obtained. Attention is called to the suggestion with regard to dormitories for the nurses; an improvement that would be of vast advantage to the Hospital, giving it much needed space for the accommodation of a greater number of patients. The wards designed for ophthalmic patients, now used as dormitories, would thus be restored to their proper use.

Among the notable achievements of the Board, and indeed of the Hospital service generally, was the care of seven cases of badly burned miners, who within one hour of arrival in the city were conveyed by ambulance to the Hospital, their frightful wounds dressed, and all placed in clean, comfortable beds. But this was not all. Within a week thereafter the resources of the Hospital were again, and more severely taxed, as a result of the Wood street disaster.

Twenty-two injured men were carried into its wards, many of them grievously wounded and covered with dirt and mortar from the falling buildings, yet all in a remarkably brief time were cared for, and rendered as comfortable as their circumstances would permit. To accomplish this required the combined efforts of surgeons, nurses and helping friends, including among the latter Dr. S. N. Benham, who was not of the Hospital Staff, but who kindly volunteered his assistance. It however demonstrated the fact, to the satisfaction of all, that our Hospital is equal to a great emergency, and justified the wisdom of those who founded it in the heart of a great city.

It is not out of place for your Committee to specially notice the untiring devotion of Dr. C. P. Seip, the surgeon on duty at the time of this accident, and also of the Superintendent, Col. Slack, whose admirable executive ability was fully equal to the demands of this trying occasion. The Hospital service met the emergency and were equal to it.

At this point it becomes our sad duty to bring to the attention of the Trustees the loss of a distinguished member of the Surgical Staff, Dr. Wm. R. Childs. His service to this institution, his loyalty and devotion to its interests, his qualities of heart and mind, all entitle him to a lasting remembrance here. Your Committee recommends that a suitable memorial be entered upon the records of this corporation.

Respectfully submitted,

J. H. McCLELLAND,

Chairman of Executive (House) Committee.

A. H. CHILDS,

Chairman Committee on Ways and Means.

To the Board of Trustees :

GENTLEMEN :—The report of the Medical Board of the Homœopathic Medical and Surgical Hospital and Dispensary of Pittsburgh, to the Trustees and Contributors, at their twenty-third annual meeting, is herewith respectfully submitted.

The tables and general summary which will accompany this report, furnish the following information :

The whole number of cases treated in the hospital during the year was 1,269 ; of these, 317 were pay patients and 952 were charity patients.

Of the patients admitted during the year the General Medical Department received.....				504

There were 33 births in the hospital during the year.

THE DEATH RATE.

During the year there were 76 deaths, making the rate of our mortality 5.6 per cent. This percentage (though small) is due, in part, to the fact that many cases are brought to this hospital in a dying condition. Some die within two or three hours of admission. There were 18 deaths within twenty-four hours of admission ; deducting these from the total number of deaths and the death rate is 4.6. Then again, we had a number of deaths from incurable diseases, viz : seven cases of phthisis pulmonalis ; three cases of chronic interstitial nephritis ; one case of valvular disease of the heart ; a case of dislocation of the spinal column, which, though brought to the hospital to be cared for till death should relieve him, not to be cured, as cure was impossible, lived 64 days in the institution ; one case of non-closure of the foramen-ovale in an infant two days old, and a case of paraplegia. Besides these there were two patients died, one from typhoid fever and one from uræmic convulsions, who were under the treatment of physicians not members of the hospital staff, or of our school of medicine. There were also two laparotomies performed in the hospital during the year by a physician who is not a member of the hospital staff or of our school of medicine. Both these cases died, and are added to our mortality list. We will deduct these and the two other cases treated by physicians not of our school, and also the incurable cases mentioned, and our death rate for the year is reduced to 3.15 per cent.

SURGICAL OPERATIONS.

The surgical wards have been full during the entire year, and on several occasions, notably the falling of the buildings on Wood and Diamond streets, some of the private rooms, as well as the wards, were used for the accommodation of the injured. All were received and cared for. The time and skill and physical endurance of the surgeons of the hospital have been severely taxed during the year.

In addition to nearly 300 minor operations (which includes all fractures reduced), the following are some of the more important operations done:

Amputations, 15; reduction of dislocations, 8; herniotomy, 4; amputation of breast, 3; for caries, 9; for hare lip, 3; osteotomy for the cure of deformity, 2; iridectomy, 1; extirpation of eye, 1; for cataract, 4; laparotomies, 9; dilatation and divulsion of the cervix, 9; amputation of the cervix, 4; curetting uterus, 5; removal of sarcoma of cervix, 1; uterine polypus, 4; lacerated perinæum, 4; lacerated cervix, 2.

Respectfully submitted,

W. J. MARTIN, M. D.,
Secretary Medical Board.

REPORT OF THE LADIES' ASSOCIATION

OF THE

HOMŒOPATHIC HOSPITAL.

The annual report of the Ladies' Association is not a statistical record, and yet, in the daily routine there is good accomplished that may count, even in the absence of figures.

Many and varied are the departments in hospital work, and to the Superintendent belongs the honor of so systematizing matters that the entire mechanism of the hospital runs smoothly and regularly.

With entire satisfaction we refer to Mrs. Slack's wise and judicious management. No emergency has so far arisen for which she has not been prepared.

The visitors whom the President appointed each month have reported the sanitary condition of the hospital, and all matters pertaining to the welfare of the patients, fully up to the requirements, and the many expressions of gratitude and satisfaction have greatly encouraged the visitors in their work, and their constant care and attention has done much to relieve the public mind of false ideas concerning hospital life.

Ministers of various denominations have regularly conducted the Chapel service on Sunday afternoons, and have shown these suffering ones that—

"These afflictions not from the ground arise,

But oftentimes celestial benedictions assume this dark disguise."

While the Sunday School for convalescent children is not directly in the line of hospital work, there are Christian women in this association who are ever alive to the necessity of speaking a word in season.

Some little ones come to us who have never heard those wonderful words of love, "and if there is anything that keeps the mind open to angel visits, and repels the ministry of evil, it is human love."

Although it is not the office of the Ladies' Association to procure homes for destitute patients, there are many representatives from our wards in the various charitable homes. During the past year two, whom Providence decreed should never again earn their daily bread, have been placed in the Home for Incurables. One old lady was taken from the hospital to the Home for Aged Women. A number of young girls were provided with comfortable homes, and a few weeks ago a little waif was sent to a family in Meadville, and a boy who proved to be a fit subject for the State School was taken to Media.

Although the hospital did not come before the public during the past year in a pronounced manner, it was, as usual, kindly remembered. Special thanks would we return for the Thanksgiving offerings; also, for the interest manifested in the patients at Christmas time. We have received from the First Presbyterian church 134 sheets, 208 towels, 30 yards table linen, and many other articles. From the East Liberty Presbyterian church, 144 sheets, 218 pillow cases, 13 spreads, and many articles of clothing. Valuable donations were received from various churches and societies, viz: the Third Presbyterian, Trinity, Christian church, of the East End, Christ M. E. church, Bellevue Presbyterian, the Ladies of Hazelwood, Fourth Avenue Baptist, Point Breeze Presbyterian, Sewickley and Emery M. E. churches, Welsh Congregational, St. Stephen's Chancel Society, The Church of the Nativity (Crafton), Hebrew Young Ladies' Society, the Sisterhood of Calvary church and Hodge Mission Band.

Through the continued kindness of the Fruit and Flower Mission, the tedium of hospital life has been greatly relieved. Special donations of flowers have been sent by Mr. Jos. Horne, Messrs. B. A. & J. C. Elliott, Mrs. Thaw, Mrs. Vandergrift, Mrs. Cohen, The Press Club, Mrs. Geo. W. Jones, Mr. B. L. Wood and Miss Ward's school.

We tender our thanks to Mrs. J. J. Vandergrift for the beautiful refitting and furnishing of the Women's convalescent room, and for many other improvements, that have added both to the comfort and pleasure of the patients.

We are indebted to Mrs. Thaw for manifold gifts to the Hospital; in every direction are we reminded of her loving generosity.

We gratefully acknowledge the concerts given by the Schubert Club; also, the concerts and entertainments given by the various musical and literary societies for the diversion of the patients. The services of the Heart and Hand Society have also been highly appreciated.

Mrs. Calvin King and Mrs. C. C. Beggs were appointed to audit the Treasurer's accounts, and certified to their correctness.

We welcome Miss Wright, Supervising Nurse, to our midst, and her responsible position. To her belongs the honor of instilling into the lives of the corps of young women composing the Training School, the magnitude and importance of their high calling. Nowhere can they find a greater field of usefulness. "They can here discern as many beautiful shades of the human heart as there are sweet changes in a chime of bells."

Diligence in such work will lead them into a broader and nobler plane of life, and well reward them for the service rendered, for beautiful is that life devoted to noble and useful service; that unites itself to the lives of others, and is ever found ready to do whatsoever is of loving aid, with cheerfulness and diligent execution.

Almost daily association and similarity of purpose has enabled the Ladies' Association to realize the weight of responsibility resting upon the Executive Committee, and has been an incentive for the managers, so far as possible, to assist in bearing the burdens that such work imposes.

This hospital stands to-day a monument to the greatest of all virtues, and we commend it to the care of those who have in the past so generously responded to our solicitations for aid. Believing, "that christian grace abounds where charity is seen, and when we climb to Heaven 'tis on the rounds of love to men."

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. GEORGE L. McCOY,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT.

To the Executive Committee :

Having been called upon, as the Superintendent of the Training School of the Homœopathic Hospital, to present its fourth annual report to the Executive Committee, and having been so recently appointed to fill this position, I would refrain from recalling its history at this time, feeling that its work is so favorably and generally known as to make it quite unnecessary.

The demand for trained nurses is one of the demands of the age, and the partial success of the school in meeting this great want in the city and its vicinity, has more than rewarded the founders of this institution, who organized the school in 1885. From its beginning with seventeen pupils, the school has increased its scholarship to the present number, twenty-two, a number far too small for carrying on the work of the hospital (which is so rapidly increasing,) and at the same time supplying the public demand.

Most earnestly do I echo the appeal of last year, for a Nurses' Dormitory, that would facilitate our work in the hospital and increase the receipts from private duty, rendering the school, in the near future, self-supporting.

Applications to the Pittsburgh Training School for Nurses are now received from many distant States, proving that our school is growing in reputation and popularity.

Since April 1, 1888, there have been received a very large number of applications for admission to the school. Of these, but six were accepted, while many others were refused for want of accommodations.

There have also been received one hundred and eleven calls for nurses for outside duty; of these, fifty have been supplied by the school, and sixty-one refused, or referred to former graduates.

The amounts received by the hospital for private nursing done by the school, are as follows :

April, 1888.....	$ 108 43
May, 1888.....	116 25
June, 1888.....	54 20
July, 1888.....	79 29
August, 1888.....	45 00
September, 1888.....	296 71
October, 1888.....	307 88
November, 1888.....	180 50
December, 1888.....	211 00
January, 1889.....	203 00
February, 1889.....	39 00
March, 1889.....	45 00
	$1,686 26

The school aspires to a high standard of conduct and efficiency, and the class of intelligent and refined women who are applying for admission into the school, show how many there are who would gladly avail themselves of the advantages such an education offers.

The school has undergone, during the year, some changes. Miss Gertrude Barrett, the honored Superintendent, was compelled, in July last, to tender her resignation, on account of domestic circumstances which demanded her presence at home. A member of the school was appointed to fill her place temporarily, which she did until February 15 last, when a graduate of "Bellevue" was appointed to fill the position.

While many discouragements have arisen during the year to retard its work, yet we have every reason to hope for success in the future. And as the graduating class of 1889 says "farewell" to the wards of the Homœopathic Hospital, and its members go out into the world to take their places in a profession which has already merited a reputation, may they, by their kindly sympathy and tender care, have bestowed upon them the final blessing of "Well done, good and faithful servant."

And, in closing, my report would be incomplete if I failed to mention the generous donation presented to the Training School, in the valuable collection of books from the library of the late Dr. J. L. Read. Much needed were these volumes for reference and instruction, and in behalf of the school, I desire to present my most sincere thanks to the kind friends who remembered us in our need, and through whom they were presented. Again, in behalf of the school and for the many acts of kindness and courtesy extended to the nurses, I express my heartfelt gratitude and appreciation.

MARGARITE P. WRIGHT,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE FACULTY.

To the Executive Committee of the Homœopathic Medical and Surgical Hospital and Dispensary of Pittsburgh, Pa. :

GENTLEMEN:—The Faculty of the Training School, appointed by you, beg to submit the following report for the year ending April 1, 1889. At the first regular meeting, held May 14, organization was effected by the re-election of L. H. Willard, M. D., Dean, and C. A. Wilson, M. D., Secretary.

Meetings have been held from time to time during the year to take action on matters of interest to the school.

Lectures have been delivered during the year, as follows: on Anatomy, 5; Physiology, 8; Gynecology, 5; Medical Emergencies, 5 ; Adjuvants, 5 ; Surgical Emergencies, 8 ; Obstetrics, 5 ; Toxicology, 4 ; Bandaging, 14.

Six members of the school, whose names are given below, have attended the required number of lectures and passed their final examinations.

Their standing in the various branches is very satisfactory to the Faculty, who take pleasure in recommending them for graduation :

MISS VIOLA C. LAWSON,
MISS MAGGIE L. COWAN,
MRS. SARAH H. SCOLES,

MISS ALICE A. GRISWOLD,
MISS FRANCES E. MULLEN,
MISS LAURA H. VICKROY.

It has become our painful duty to record the death of one of our number ; one who was watchful of its welfare, and ever faithful to its interests, Dr. Wm. R. Childs.

The work belonging to this chair, that of Surgical Emergencies, was performed by Dr. L. H. Willard and Dr. R. W. McClelland.

C. A. WILSON, M. D., Secretary.
